Pittsburg Threatened With Worst Flood in Years.

STAGE OF OVER THIRTY FEET

Monongahela is Rising Eight inches an Hour Fifty Miles Above the Smoky City—20,000 Men in Enforced Idleness Today.

(By Associated Press.)

PITTSBURG, PA., March 21.—Pittsburg is threatened with one of the worst floods in years. At 10 o'clock tonight Forecaster Frank Ridgway predicts over thirty feet. He does not expect over thirty-five feet, if that much.

During the early hours today the water began to recede from the rise in the Allegheny, but a fresh impetus was given to the rushing torrents by a rainfall of nearly two inches over the entire watershed of the Monongahela river.

Rising Eight Inches an Hour.

Tonight, about fifty miles above Pittsburg, the Monongahela is rising eight inches an hour, and at the harbor here the gauges show a rise of nearly three inches per hour.

Should the river reach the predicted height, street car traffic between this city and surrounding towns will be almost suspended, while the railroads up the Monongahela valley will have to suspend traffic. Already a number of mills have shut down as a result of the water putting out the fires. From three to five feet more of water is expected up the valley and a total of 20,000 men are likely to be idle tomorrow.

Living in Second Stories.

Hundreds of houses in Allegheny, on the south side, and in McKeesport and other suburbs are surrounded by from two to eight feet of water, the occupants living in the second stories. In some places the water has entered the upper rooms and homes are being abandoned for the time being.

No fatalities have been reported to-day.

Scores of business houses have their basements flooded and the loss will be heavy.

The crest of the flood is expected about 9 p. m. Wednesday.

It is threatening to rain again to-night.

Wheeling District Suffering From Unprecedented High Flood Stages.

(By Associated Press.)

WHEELING, W. VA., March 21.—The unexpectedly large flood stage materialized here today on the first rise, with a still higher stage coming Thursday, on the second rise, complicated the situation in the Wheeling district greatly and there is more loss than usual to householders and merchants.

On Wheeling Island, South and East Wheeling, Benwood and the Ohio side towns, there are hundreds of homes inundated and much household furniture has been destroyed by the water.

Held Back by Side Streams.

Reports from below indicate that the water is being held back by side streams, and New Martinsville, Moundsville, Sistersville and other towns are already suffering from the flood with yet worse conditions Wednesday and Thursday.

Clarksburg is on the verge of a flood, and damage has already been inflicted on the Monongahela, between Clarksburg and Fairmont, in the mining district.

What it Really Means

THIS trade mark in red and white is on each end of the airtight packages of Biscuit, Wafers and Crackers baked by the National Biscuit Company.

It means that the contents of the package on which it appears are of the very highest quality; that they are made of the best materials and baked by skillful bakers in scrupulously clean bakeries; that the package is airtight and moisture proof.

It is quality that has made these goods the chief item on the Nation's bill-of-fare. For example try Social Tea Biscuit and Oysterettes
